You're not alone

Whether you're struggling with debt, want to budget better or just be more confident with your money, Hope67 can help. We partner with Coalville Foodbank and are built on Christian values. We're keen to work with anyone, whether they have a faith or none at all. We do not charge for our services.

Talking to you gave me the confidence to feel more positive about confronting and taking action myself

To think that I would have just given up 6 months ago. Thank you so much

It's a massive emotional weight lifted off my shoulders
